ROME PAPER TAKES WILSON TO TASK

SAYS LANSING AND HOUSE
WERE TOOLS OF WILSON AND NOT SERVANTS OF
UNITED STATES

By News Special Service
ROME, Feb. 17.—"America is going through a crisis of over-production and she needs European markets as much as Europe needs her goods," in the opinion of the Popolo Romano which today comments on President Wilson's note relative to the Adriatic settlement. Urging U. S. Senators Lodge, Sherman and Knox to "show the strength of the majority of the senate in preventing Mr. Wilson's interference in European affairs," the newspaper adds:
"Secretary Lansing resigned too late. He was a straight forward conscientious and loyal man until he went to Paris where he became the blind instrument of President Wilson and lost the esteem of friends and adversaries alike. Mr. Lansing, Henry White, and Gen. Bliss were in fact mere marionettes who moved at the pleasure of the stage manager of the theatre of Versailles. At the same time Col. House was entrusted to the negotiation of foreign affairs not for America but for President Wilson."
"Mr. Lansing assisted by a very competent staff repaired many presidential blunders. He opposed the league of nations and favored the establishment of an international tribunal sufficiently strong to pass valid verdicts."

Furnished Money To Jail Birds And Is Arrested

James McCarthy was arrested this morning by Sheriff Duncan on a vagrancy charge and on suspicion of being identified with a gang of burglars and hold-up men who have been operating in Southeast Oklahoma. The sheriff was in receipt of a letter from the chief of police at Hugo stating that two professional crooks are in the Hugo jail and that they had just received $80.00 from James McCarthy of Ada. McCarthy is suspected of knowing something about the robbery of Lowery's barber shop Sunday night as he told the sheriff when arrested that his pals had skipped town for fear of "being pinched for handling razors." McCarthy will be held pending an investigation.

Oklahoma Republican Delegates Are Being Named All This Week

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 18.—The naming of Oklahoma republican delegates to the national convention will be brought to a close this week with the third district convention, two of them scheduled for today.
Delegates from the three Oklahoma districts will be completed with the selection of delegates at the fifth district convention to be held in Oklahoma City.

Who Said

"The British Ministry can read that name without spectacles; let them double their reward!"

At the time those words were uttered there was a price on their author's head. John Hancock, a Revolutionary leader of the highest type, and one of the first signers of the Declaration of Independence, had been outlawed and ordered arrested by George III. However, he attended the convention at Philadelphia and signed the document declaring independence from the crown, in bold letters that make his name the most prominent in the list of signers. It was then that he made his defiant threat to the British government to double their reward for his capture.
From start to finish he played an important part in the affairs of the colonies and of the new republic. It was the attempted arrest of this man and Samuel Adams that precipitated the Battle of Lexington. And it was to warn them of the approaching British troops that Paul Revere made his famous ride from Boston to Lexington. From 1775 to 1780 and from 1785 to 1788 Hancock served in the Continental Congress presiding over that body from 1775 to 1777. For twelve years he served as governor of the state of Massachusetts, and died at Quincy, the town of his birth, in 1793, at the age of 58.

POKER PLAYERS, PLEASE GIVE ATTENTION!

Uncle Sam wants to know how much you won at poker last year. "None of his business," you say? There's where you're mistaken. Taxable income for the year 1919 includes amounts gained in gambling. Profits made in violation of laws and regulations are none the less taxable. So it's up to you "penny-ante" boys whose poker accounts are on the right side of the ledger to come across.
"What about the losers?"
Well, that's different. Illegal losses are not deductible.

M'ADOO WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE

WILL NOT SUFFER HIS NAME
TO BE PLACED ON PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY BALLOTS.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Wm. G. McAdoo announced today that he would not permit his name to be used on presidential primary ballots in various states and that he advocated the sending of uninstructed delegates to the democratic national convention. The former secretary of the treasury said he believed the highest destructionists can be outwitted if the national interest is "not submerged in a contest of individual candidates."
"Personally," Mr. McAdoo continued, "I would be delighted if the next national convention might actually be a democratic conference where the whole freedom of action should prevail and where the motives of high service alone should control."
"I am not seeking the nomination," the letter said, "and I am reluctant to do anything that would create the appearance of a candidate."
Mr. McAdoo's views were expressed in a letter to Miller S. Bells, mayor of Milledgeville, Ga., in response to a telegram saying that the friends of his boyhood home had placed his name on the presidential preferential ticket.

Shall Relatives Put Marks at the Graves Of the Soldier Dead?

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Feb. 17.—Whether relatives shall be permitted to set up any sort of individual memorials they desire on the graves of soldier relatives in France, or the present policy be continued of permitting only the rude wooden crosses with name and identification number attached is the hub of a controversy which has arisen in England.
Lord Robert Cecil has been acting as spokesman for those who desire the privilege of erecting individual memorials on the graves of their soldier dead.

They are opposed by a large number of bereaved relatives who argue that most of those who have gone to look at a friend's name on one of the thousand of little oak crosses have felt that his name received dignity from the reticence of its quiet uniformity with those of all his fellow soldiers.
"At present our war cemeteries in France are the most beautiful and moving places in which men ever collected their dead," declared one American father of a soldier buried in France after a visit to his grave. "The contrast is enormous between their noble expressive simplicity as monuments of unselfish brotherhood in arms and the average civilian cemetery in France or England with its restless, jumbled individualism. That fine contrast would soon be lost if all relatives might do as they chose. In getting their way they would irreparably mar the resting place of their friends' comrades."

FLOYD TO ADDRESS TEACHERS FRIDAY

Prof. A. Floyd, county superintendent of schools for Pontotoc county, has received notice that he is to appear on the program of the Oklahoma Education Association meeting in Oklahoma City on next Friday. In the section of county superintendents Mr. Floyd will discuss the subject: "The Salary Problem as Related to the Supply and Demand of Teachers Adequately Prepared to Teach in the Rural Schools." Mr. Floyd is one of the live county superintendents of the state and his organizing ability is fast becoming known in other counties than his own.

LLOYD GEORGE'S IDEA OF TAMING THE REDS

Under the Union Jack You Can Take a Drink Without Interference

By the Associated Press
HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 17.—Posted conspicuously in the lobby of a big local hotel is a placard which reads: "Bermuda still has license. We expect our patrons to exercise common sense. We do not care how little they drink; excess will not be tolerated."
Some islanders affect to see a promise of a great future founded on the dollars of American tourists who, they believe, will flock hither as to an oasis. Others look with apprehension on the prospect. Meantime the conduct of the tourists is being watched with an unusual degree of interest. Some among the new arrivals do not hesitate to say that they made the trip largely in expectation of throwing off the restraint of their homeland.

"We come here to seek freedom," declared a new arrival as he planted his feet against the brass rail of a local bar. We have to seek liberty under the folds of the British flag; wherever the Union Jack waves one can take a drink unmolested.
A companion who ventured to call his attention to the state of affairs in Newfoundland and certain Canadian provinces where the British flag waves over bone-dry regions, was pooh-poohed.

AMERICANISM.

From the days when our Puritan forebears stepped on these shores to find Freedom, there has never been a time when America should be more grateful than today. Barely scathed by the havoc and horror of war; with the world turning to us for succor and sustenance; with prosperity flowing through every artery of our land, we stand at the pinnacle of power, a nation strong in wealth and ideals, mighty in its Americanism. Phenomenal in growth, and acting as a crucible for the fusion of alien races, it was inevitable that some loose thinking should be engendered; that some unrest should be fomented; that ideals should be assailed. But the foundations of this nation are too deeply grounded in Justice and Liberty to be disturbed by idle winds. It was not in vain we spilled our blood at Lexington and Sumpter; in Santiago and at Chateau Thierry. This nation today stands on a rock of stability so infamy can undermine. We are grateful and proud of our pure Americanism.

Murdered Over a Plow

By the Associated Press
Forseyth, Mo., Feb. 18.—Charles Cardwell fifty years old, and Benjamin Cardwell, his son, twenty-six years old, both well to do farmers are dead, and Henry Hunt, thirty-two years old, is being held in Taney county jail here without bond as the result of a quarrel over a damaged plow yesterday between the two Cardwells and Hunt.

Terrific Fire at Fort Smith

By the Associated Press
FT. SMITH, Feb. 18.—Fire of undetermined origin early this morning destroyed the Ft. Smith warehouses of the Gay Oil Company. The damage is estimated by company officials at between $50,000.00 and $100,000.00. The same company suffered a $65,000 loss by fire in Little Rock a few days ago.

Ship Bids Are Rejected.

By the Associated Press
Washington, Feb. 18.—Rejection of all bids received for the 30 former German passenger ships offered for sale by the shipping board was recommended to the senate commerce committee today by Chairman Payne of the board, who asked authority to renew negotiations for the sale of the vessels for operation under the American flag.

Prohibition Ruins Policeman

By the Associated Press
Minnneapolis, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Police justice A. O. Little today announced that he had resigned because prohibition prevented him from "making a living." Since the band went into effect last March, his revenues from the office dwindled more than 50 percent, the justice stated, while there had not been a single case of intoxication and only a few minor cases of assault to be tried.

Wolves Invade Duluth

By the Associated Press
DULUTH, Feb. 18.—For a week a wolf pack has nightly invaded the western end of Duluth and not until last night did trappers and score of people succeed in killing one, wounding another, and trapping a third of the pack of twelve. Two policemen, equipped with snow shoes and rifles, patrolled the district of 40th Avenue West and Eighth Street for nearly a week and although they saw the pack drift up and down near-by streets, failed to get a shot at the wolves.

W. S. Howell and Mrs. Bessie Bonham were married at the courthouse in Ada yesterday afternoon by Justice Brown. The groom is a resident of Konawa, while the bride lives at Sasakwa.

Rose Pastor Stokes Running for Congress From Gotham District

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes of New York, militant communist and former socialist, one of the 167 persons indicted by a special grand jury here January 23 for advocating the overthrow of the government, today announced that she would be a candidate for congress from the 14th New York district. Mrs. Stokes is at large on bonds pending an appeal from the court to a ten years' sentence in a federal prison for obstructing the draft.

LITTLE HEALTH TALKS

Don't be afraid of canned goods. The best products of our farms and fisheries go into cans, and their packing is so scientific that there is very little danger of injury to our health when we eat them. Did you know that the packers keep all their goods for the better part of a year or more before putting them on the market, to prevent any spoiled goods from being sold?
Spoiling of food is the result of the growth of the little plants known to us all by this time as germs, or bacteria, or bacilli, or microbes. These words are not all alike to the scientist, but one will do as well as another for ordinary use.
Hard boiling kills the organisms and it is those that have escaped killing that grow after a time and produce gas. When you see a can that bulges at the ends, its contents are fermenting with the growth of these bacteria, and the can is called a "swell" in the trade. Such a can should be sent back to the dealer, for it is not fit for use.
There are petty ways in all professions, and there still exists the packer who punctures the end of a swell, lets the gas out and seals the hole. When you see a drop of solder on the end of a can, put it down for a doctored swell and refuse it.
But you will find that the standard brands do not include such—the good packers do not resort to petty fraud.
Use good grades of canned goods—all you are inclined— and rest assured that they contain food that has been packed right off the tree or out of the water or the earth, and contain the very best that is on the market.

COME ON IN AND GET THE SEEDS

The News told its friends and subscribers yesterday about the garden seeds which are here for their use free of charge. It isn't that you would save any considerable sum by getting these seeds free, but they are government tested seeds and we are anxious that you give them a trial.
Mr. McKeown has gone to considerable trouble to have the seeds shipped here, and we have gone to some trouble to advertise the fact that they are here, and we are anxious that our friends come in and get a package.

SUPREME COUNCIL REPLIES TO WILSON

IT IS ANNOUNCED AT WASHINGTON, HOWEVER, THAT THE REPLY WILL NOT BE MADE PUBLIC.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Feb. 18.—The reply of the supreme allied council to President Wilson's note relative to the Adriatic settlement has been coded and forwarded to Washington by the American embassy here. Announcement has been made that the question of making public the text of the reply will rest with Mr. Wilson.

It is understood that the communication sent to the American capital objects to a reopening of the Adriatic questions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The reply of the allied supreme council at London to President Wilson's note on the Adriatic question was received today by the state department from Ambassador Davis and was decoded as it came in.

It was announced officially that the reply would not be made public immediately. Publication of the reply has been left by the council to President Wilson, according to London dispatches, but the council expected to give the press a summary. While awaiting for the note to be decoded, officials noted from the London dispatches that the reply was said to have been a modification of the original one prepared last Saturday.

WILSON NOT FIT TO HOLD OFFICE SAYS SCIENTIST

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—President Wilson, because of his illness, should retire from the duty of his office, under the advice of physicians, family and friends. Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan, former president of the American Medical association and professor of surgery at Rush Medical college, stated today.
In a statement based on the known facts in the president's illness, Dr. Bevan said:
"The president's stroke, with the resulting paralysis of one side of his body, is due to a disease of the arteries of his brain, with a plugging up of the arteries which supply that part of the right side of his brain which controls his left arm and leg.
"The disease of the arteries is a permanent and not a temporary condition. In other words the president has a permanently damaged brain. He is evidently slowly recovering from the paralysis of his arm and leg, and may recover fairly well, although never completely the use of his limbs. But the diseased arteries, which were responsible for the stroke and the damaged brain, remain and will not be recovered from."
Should Not Work.
Dr. Bevan stated a patient in this condition "under no circumstances should be permitted to resume the work of such a strenuous position," as that of President Wilson.
He stated that strain and responsibility would endanger a recurrence of the attack and "might hasten a fatal termination."

Fined for Whipping Wife.

Rango Jones was assessed $35.50 yesterday in Justice Brown's court on a charge of assault and battery. He was charged with whipping his wife, Mrs. Pearl Jones, on Main Street some time last week.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC RAGING NOW IN VIENNA

By the Associated Press
VIENNA, Feb. 18.—40,000 cases of influenza are reported in the city and the death rate is very high. Among the recent victims of the disease was Dr. Ernest Wertheim, a world famous specialist and surgeon.

KANS. TO PREVENT STRIKES IN FUTURE

STATE INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS
COURT ESTABLISHED BY LEGISLATURE DESIGNED TO DO THE WORK.

By the Associated Press
TOPEKA, Kans., Feb. 18.—The state industrial relations court established by the legislature in special session last month, has well defined powers to put an end to strikes in essential industries in Kansas. State officials declare that Kansas is the first state in the nation to enact a law providing for the elimination of such strikes as would affect public interest. The new court is given broad powers and sufficient "teeth" were placed in the law, it is claimed, to put industrial agitators out of business in Kansas.
Aroused by the industrial crisis that came to head in the coal strike, Gov. H. J. Allen called a special session of the legislature in session on Jan. 5, to enact some law which would make a repetition of such an event impossible. The plan for the establishment of a court of three members to which industrial controversies in essential industries must be referred was embodied in a bill which was placed before the legislature. The final vote on the measure, which in its final draft differed but slightly from the original bill, was 95 to 8 in the house and 30 to 4 in the senate.

The special session of three weeks was one of the most spectacular in the history of the state. Both labor unions and employers marshalled their forces here to defeat the bill. A full week was devoted to speeches before a joint session of the two houses by orators representing labor unions, employers and the public. Frank P. Walsh, former chairman of the federal industrial relations commission, talked a full day, denouncing the proposed law in the most vigorous language. He represented labor, as did several other speakers—lawyers and union officials. The public's champion was W. L. Huggins, a member of the state utilities commission. He confined his address to two hours. Realizing the strong sentiment in favor of the measure, before the bill was up for discussion the labor leaders gave up the fight and were no longer seen in the state house lobbies. On the other hand, many laboring men of the more conservative type, have declared they see fair play in the bill and are for it.

The outstanding features of the new law are:

Creates a court of three members, appointed by the governor, with administrative powers; salary $5,000 a year each.
New court takes over all duties and powers of public utilities commission.

Provides punishment for persons seeking to close down any essential industry by strike or lockout.

Penalties for persons fostering strikes or conspiring to foster strikes in transportation or essential industries.

Enables state operation of industries in emergencies.

Production and transportation of clothing, fuel, and food stuffs invested with public interest and placed under powers of the court.

Court has authority to investigate wages and living conditions and all complaints relative thereto, and to make orders regulating the matters.

Investigation may be made by the court on its own initiative, at the request of either party or on petition of ten persons.

Guarantees under direct provisions of bill for fair wage to labor and fair return to employer on invested capital.

Direct appeal may be taken to supreme court.

Right of collective bargaining recognized.

Sympathy strikes prohibited; also "picketing."

Both misdemeanor and felony provisions made in penalties clause. Individual workers violating the law may be fined not to exceed $1,000.

Officers of any labor organization, employer or official of any corporation violating the law may be sentenced to imprisonment not to exceed two years, or fined not to exceed $5,000, or both.

Women Abandon Idea Of Forming a Party Of Their Own Sex

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Allignment of women voters with existing conditions and abandonment of efforts to inaugurate a political organization of their own was advocated today by the leaders of the League of Women Voters, successor to the National Women's Suffrage Association. Republican and democratic members of the league urged the women to affiliate with their respective parties and expressed their opposition to the formation of a second party of women.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE
By Mary Graham
Donner

MR. AND MRS. AOUDAD.

"Well, Nick," said Daddy, "it is your turn to say what the story is to be about this evening. Only please don't ask me to tell you about something I've never heard of before. And don't ask me to tell you about a little girl or a little boy I never heard of."

"I won't," laughed Nick, and Nancy sat on the edge of the chair wondering what Nick would choose.

"I think I'd like to hear a story about Mr. and Mrs. Aoudad or the Barbary Wild Sheep pair," said Nick. Nancy burst out laughing.

"What are you laughing at?" asked Nick.

"Oh, you know," said Nancy. "You want to hear about old Mr. Aoudad and how much Mrs. Aoudad admires him so you can tell me to follow her example. Well, Daddy, you have told us that he's a conceited old fellow, too, so go ahead and tell the story, please."

"I'd forgotten about his being conceited," said Nick. "but I will be a good sport and as long as I asked for a story about them in the first place I will say that I still want it to be about them."

"All right," said Daddy. "Here goes!"

"Mr. and Mrs. Aoudad were in the zoo. It was almost dinner time."

"Dinner time, my love," said Mrs. Aoudad to her mate.

"That's good; I'm hungry," said Mr. Aoudad.

"So am I," said Mrs. Aoudad.

"Well, if I don't eat up everything the keeper gives us you can have what I leave," said Mr. Aoudad.

"Couldn't I have my dinner with you for a change?" asked Mrs. Aoudad. "Gracious, no," said Mr. Aoudad. "That would spoil you. You have to remember that I must eat first and when I am through you eat. You know what happens when you try to eat at the same time that I do."

"Yes, I know," said Mrs. Aoudad sadly. "You always push me away."

"Certainly," said Mr. Aoudad, "for I have to show you your place!"

"And that is far away from the dinner when the dinner comes," said Mrs. Aoudad.

"Far away from the dinner when the dinner comes," said Mr. Aoudad. "but near what is left of the dinner when Mr. Aoudad, your fine mate, is through."

"Now, Mrs. Aoudad, before dinner comes, you admire me while I stand in many graceful positions for you."

"So Mr. Aoudad strutted this way and that, and stood this way and that, with his head up and with his head down, and Mrs. Aoudad obediently admired him. And in truth, she did admire him, too, for he was a handsome fellow and she was proud to be his mate.

"Mr. Aoudad Strutted."

"Before long, after Mrs. Aoudad had greatly admired him and the poses he had taken—just as though he were having many photographs taken of himself—the dinner was brought along by the keeper."

"This Mr. Aoudad," he told a visitor to the zoo, "won't let his mate eat until he is all through. He is telling her that he is the boss. Watch! And sure enough the visitor watched and Mr. Aoudad had his dinner first. But the keeper had seen that there was enough for both."

"Oh," said Nancy, "I had forgotten the old aoudad was such a bossy creature. Nick never could be like old Mr. Aoudad if he tried a thousand years. He is always sharing everything with me and always giving me the first bits."

"You're a loyal sister," said Nick. "Still it's fun to hear about such a bossy creature as the aoudad, and I'm glad to hear about him and then hear you say that I'm good and different."

"But there is a nice thing we must not forget about Mr. Aoudad."

"What is that?" the children asked.

"He comes from Africa," said daddy, "where the climate is hot and dry in the northern mountains; but even in a zoo of a city where it is cold at this time of the year and damp and wet he never grumbles about the weather, no matter if he has a good excuse!"

No More Spanking.

"I wonder why grandma threw an old slipper after Sister Hazel when she went on her wedding trip," queried little Willard.

"Oh, I know," replied little five-year-old sister Dorothy. "It means that grandma ain't got to spank her any more."

EX-MRS. JACK DEMPSEY USES RIGHT OF HER SEX AND CHANGES HER MIND

Mrs. Maxime Dempsey

Mrs. Maxime Dempsey, former wife of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, has taken back "them harsh words" she spoke about Jack. A couple of weeks ago she asserted not only that Jack asked her to sign his draft exemption papers, but stated that he threatened her with bodily harm if she did not sign them. She added later that efforts were being made to take from her letters from Jack which would prove her statements. But more recently she said: "I'm sorry I hurt Jack. I don't deny saying things about him, but I guess I was crazy. I think the world of Jack Dempsey. He is just a big, wonderful boy."

Running a Newspaper

Dear folks. Now I know why editors go mad. I ben trying to run this paper while the editor is on his vakashun. For three (3) days and nites I ben reading questions and trying to answer them, and if I don't quit I'll be going around talking to myself.

I'm going to answer a few more and go to the ball game—Jummy the office boy.

1. What is a limberneck? J. Jones.

Limberneck in the country is a strange disease of fowls and chickens. In the city, it is a disease of human persons caused by watching fowls—and chickens.

2. Do small cows give condensed milk? Mable B.

No, Mable, condensed milk is made by trying to get a quart of milk into a pint bottle.

3. Please tell me how hash is made. W. W.

Hash is not made it accumulate.

4. Is it all right to feed hogs corn in the ear? G. K.

No put it in a trough and let them help themselves.

5. I am in love with a homely girl who works for us but she don't seem to care for me, while a pretty girl with lots of money wants to marry me. What shall I do? Will M.

Marry the one you love, and send me the name and address of the other one.

6. My hair is beginning to come out. What can I get to keep it in? A sack.

7. Please tell me how to raise a nice fat hog of about 500 pounds. Z

Get a derrick.

8. How can I tell when the water is the right temperature for bathing baby? Young Mother.

If the kid gets red and hollers, the water is too hot. If he gets blue and shivers, it's too cold.

Don't Suffer

MANY men and women are suffering because they are treating effects instead of removing causes.

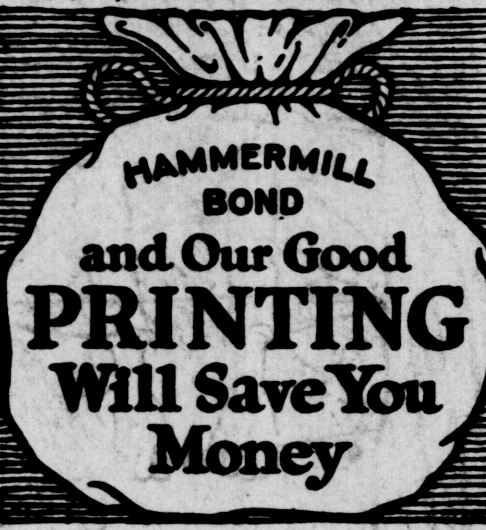

Why bother with liniments and lotions for rheumatic pains, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles, biliousness, nervousness, floating specks in the vision, dizziness, puffy pouches under the eyes, or other symptoms of kidney trouble when the kidneys can be made well and strong, thus removing the cause of the symptoms?

Foley Kidney Pills

have been used for kidney trouble and bladder diseases by men and women with success for many years. They seem to get right at the root of the trouble, invigorating and strengthening, healing and soothing weak, sore, or diseased kidneys and bladder. They help the kidneys throw out of the blood the waste and poisons that cause the symptoms of kidney trouble.

O. W. Weisinger, 224 Buena Vista, San Antonio, Texas, writes: "I have suffered more or less with kidney and bladder trouble for the past ten years. The only thing I have ever been able to get relief from was Foley Kidney Pills. I most heartily recommend them to any one suffering with kidney or bladder trouble."

YOUR KIND OF TOWN

If you want to live in the kind of a town

Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike.

You'll only find what you left behind

For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.

It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid

Lest somebody else gets ahead

When everyone works and nobody shirks

You can raise a town from the dead.

And while you make your personal stake

Your neighbors can make one, too.

Your town will be what you want it to be.

It isn't the town—it's you.

Why More Small Cars Come Equipped With Goodyear Tires

Last year, more small cars, using 30 x 3-, 30 x 3 1/2-, or 31 x 4-inch tires, were factory equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these small-car tires by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupu- lous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at our nearest Service Station. Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30 x 3 1/2 size in water- proof bag $3.20

GOOD YEAR

'T WAS THOUGHTFUL OF THE MOGULS BUT—

American Cow Abroad

The young Ty Cobbs and Walter Johnsons—and their name is legion—will appreciate the move of the big league magnates in establishing a legalized small-sized diamond for the use of junior nines. The pitching distance and distance between bases was pretty long for the knee-pants lads. But the moguls, at their Chicago session, overlooked the fact that the boosting of the price of real honest-to-goodness baseballs to $2.50 has put said treasures out of the reach of thousands of said juniors with aspiration to become big league stars—and money makers for the moguls some day. No move was made to cut the price for the kiddies.

The American cow is keeping company with the American pig in its invasion of the world markets. A statement by The National City Bank of New York a few weeks ago showed that the American pig is rapidly capturing the food markets of the world and it now appears that the American cow is keeping it company. A further statement by the Bank, covering the world activities of the American cow, shows that nearly a billion pounds of condensed milk were sent out of the United States in 1913 at an export value of about $125,000,000, and that it was distributed to no less than 90 countries, colonies and islands of the world. The quantity of condensed milk sent out of the country in 1919 is, says the Bank's statement, fifty times as much as in the year preceding the war, and the value nearly one hundred times as much.

This tremendous increase in the exportation of condensed milk now represents an export trade of $125,000,000 a year, against a little over $1,000,000 at the beginning of the war. The phenomenal growth in exportation of this class of merchandise is apparently due in some degree to the taste which Europe acquired for American condensed milk during the war for the quantity sent to Europe has advanced from 8,632 pounds in 1914 to 99,641,000 in 1916; 384,588,000 in the fiscal year 1918, and over 600,000,000 pounds in the calendar year 1919. To France, which made an intimate acquaintance with this product during the war period, the quantity sent in 1919 is 112,000,000 pounds against 41,000,000 in 1918, and to the United Kingdom, whose supplies of dairy products formerly drawn from northern Europe have been greatly minimized by recent events, the quantity sent in 1919 is 425,000,000 pounds against 270,000,000 in 1918; 157,000,000 in 1917, and 106,000,000, in 1916.

The tropical world and the Orient have meantime developed a closer acquaintance with the American product which had been consumed in those sections in limited quantities in the past. To Asia as a whole the quantity sent in 1919 is approximately 60,000,000 pounds against 3,000,000 the year before the war; to Oceania approximately 20,000,000 pounds against about 2,000,000 in the year preceding the war; to Africa 15,000,000 as against 500,000 in the pre-war period, and to South America approximately 15,000,000 pounds against a little less than 1,000,000 in 1914.

One especially interesting feature of the rapid growth of this "war baby" lies in the fact that although its chief development occurred during the war, the "lusty infant" has continued its growth since the termination of hostilities, as the quantity exported in the calendar year 1919 is actually 50 per cent greater than in the calendar year 1918, most of which was a war period.

This product, condensed milk, of which the present output of the factories of the United States is now probably 2,500,000,000 pounds, with a market value of nearly $500,000,000, is a product of the line of northern States stretching from New York westward to the Pacific Coast, and including especially New York, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan,

Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Oregon and Washington. The value of the product exported was not considered by the Government at Washington of sufficient importance to make a record prior to 1910 when the total value of the export was $1,000,000, advancing to $3,000,000 in 1915; $13,000,000 in 1916; $25,000,000 in 1917; $68,000,000 in the fiscal year 1918, and approximately $120,000,000 in the calendar year 1919.

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

Pretty Hats for Resort Wear

HERE is an amazing variety in the hats that have been made for wear at the winter resorts, perhaps because so many people are journeying to them and because these people demand individuality in the millinery they wear. Out of the great mass of new things for spring that have their try-outs in the winter resorts, some things survive their brief season in the South and become established styles for spring.

In the group of three hats shown above, a hat and parasol to match, of cretonne, is selected from a number of such matched sets, a good many of them made of cretonne. Taffeta silk, hemstitched in rows, and other materials are featured in matched sets also. Those of cretonne usually have the figures outlined with yarn in black or in a solid color. Bands of black appear on the parasol and on the small hat pictured here.

The pretty sailor hat at the right of the group is among those that are likely to outlive the resort season, and appear with the survival of the fittest, when Easter challenges millinery designers to display their triumphs. It is made of georgette crepe, having the crown decorated with narrow cross-bar tucks and a beautiful narrow band of feathers about its base. Finally a small flower made of feathers reveals a fine and cunning hand that has made its feather trimming the pride and glory of this hat.

But this delightful hat has no better chance of survival than the odd and chic round hat at the bottom of the group. This is something new. It is made with a foundation of black satin veiled with figured crepe, which sounds very simple, but fails to convey the charm of a clever bit of millinery designing. It would take a professional to tell all there is to tell of this new arrival, but, being novel and becoming, it will remain and make us familiar with its secret of success. The displays of millinery for resort wear reveal the immense advance made by American designers during the war. This millinery will bear comparison with any. Some of it is made in this country of fabrics which have been imported, but most of it is purely American and of a character to make us proud.

Oratory Needed Censoring

Home Sector: Accuracy and war oratory are very often at odds. Representative James H. May of Utah, discoursing in Congress, gave the following graphic picture of what did not happen at Chateau-Thierry: "At this juncture the Second Division, including the famous marines, were thrown into the breach, and the heroic manner in which they performed was the wonder of the campaign. They declined to retreat, although advised by the French officers to do so; instead they met the Prussian Guards in the open, as they advanced with bands playing in regular column formation, goose-stepping toward the city."

There are only seven things wrong with Congressman May's statement. Two divisions—not the Second alone—were thrown into the line, the French never advised them to retreat, the enemy troops they met just then were not of the Prussian Guard, and the Germans did not advance with bands playing, nor in column formation, nor goose-stepping, and they were not headed for any city in particular.

American troops were going toward Chateau-Thierry—to meet the Germans. Five battered French divisions were coming from Chateau-Thierry—having met the Germans. Everything was being carried out according to plans, but Yank officers and doughboys did not know this neither did the battle-weary French officers and pollus. They met on the fields an on the roads northwest of Chateau-Thierry. According to stories afterward circulated among American troops in France the French defenders of Chateau-Thierry seemed obsessed with the single idea of beating the Germans into Paris.

What happened was this: As the Americans approached the battle, under command of General Degoutte, a French corps commander, the oncoming Germans were being opposed by two depleted French divisions, weary from five days of disorderly and disheartening retreat. They were about all in, but they were ordered to hold their ground until the Americans could get into position behind them. Then they were to fall back through the Americans and withdraw for a much needed rest and rehabilitation.

All that happened thereafter was according to order. The withdrawal of the exhausted French troops through the lines of the exuberant Americans was successfully accomplished, and was no reflection whatever on their spirit. In holding out as long as they had against overwhelmingly superior numbers, they had done their share.

STRAWS ON THE SURFACE

The Daily Oklahoman has been conducting a poll of its readers to ascertain their first choice of presidential candidates. In last Sunday's issue it announces the result of the replies received up until that date and the announcement has some surprises. Of the few thousand who had voted Mr. Bryan stood first, Senator Owen second, and Herbert Hoover, third.

Straw votes are never conclusive and are valuable only for purposes of speculation on what may occur later. But it is interesting to note that among those voting the "Peerless Leader" is still well in the lead. It is more interesting, perhaps, to note that Senator Owen, unanimously endorsed by the Muskogee convention as the state's favorite son, is second choice in his own state when the plain people are expressing a choice. If such a poll were at all conclusive (which it is not) one might be safe in saying that Senator Owen is not a presidential contestant, inasmuch as he can hold only about one third of the vote of his own state. If he is not considered more seriously among the rank and file of Oklahoma, what can be said of his standing in other states?

The Hoover vote is significant when one reflects that he stands a good third and is far away and ahead of men like McAdoo and Champ Clark, both of whom have campaigned in Oklahoma or has stronger following in Oklahoma than he has in any other of the forty eight states. If one can gather any conclusion from the Oklahoma poll, it is that Herbert Hoover is a powerful factor in the presidential handicap. Concerning the Bryan lead, it is well to bear in mind that at one time Bryan came first with all Oklahoma Democrats and that a poll taken a few years back would have been almost unanimous for the Nebraskan. That he has lost strength and lots of strength is evident.

IS SILENCE GOLDEN

The legislature is called to meet in special session next Monday. The ostensible reason for the call is to give the legislature an opportunity to vote on the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the constitution. Three states and numerous county conventions have endorsed the special session and urged the ratification of the amendment.

But an interesting question suggests itself. We have in Pontotoc County something like 4,000 women voters. Of these only three have ever asked us to vote for ratification. Fewer than one in a thousand has ever mentioned the matter to us. This unanimity of silence is interesting and may be construed in various ways. It may mean that the women of Pontotoc County take ratification as a matter of course and expect every legislator to vote for it. It may mean that as a rule the women are indifferent and do not really care what the fate of the amendment may be. Or it might mean that the women are opposed to ratification. One guess is perhaps as good as another. It is possible that the demand for a special session and for ratification is but the campaign of one of the turbulent minorities that have been so vociferous during the past few years. Who can say?

Although the honorable senate has debated the peace treaty 221 days that is not so bad. The war is over and they have abundant time to talk. While the war was on and civilization was bleeding at every pore, the congress of all the people debated the war revenue measure six months. They delayed action at the cost of tens of thousands of lives. Now that fighting has ceased it is but natural that the honorable senate should feel no special urge to act on the final treaty. Even when congress had passed the war revenue bill it became necessary to appoint an army of experts to decide what the law meant. Perhaps it will take years for experts to decide what the peace treaty means even after the honorable senate has acted on it. Many thousands of years ago God said "Let there be light." But the honorable senate has not yet heard the divine commandment.

The charge so frequently made nowadays that the Democratic party is in open revolt against President Wilson and the league covenant is not borne out by the election returns from the Third Missouri District, where in the special election of last Saturday the Democratic nominee was elected to congress by a majority slightly larger than the one by which his predecessor was elected two years ago. The league was the only issue.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

COUNTY COMMISSIONER
1st District
OTTO STRICKLAND

INCOME TAX FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

"John Doe has owed me $500 for two years. I have given up hope of payment. Am I allowed to deduct that amount in making out my Income-Tax return for 1919?"

The answer of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to questions such as these is, "Yes, if you have exhausted every reasonable means of collection, and have charged off the debt in 1919 as worthless."

To be allowed as a deduction, a debt must be charged off within the taxable year in which its worthlessness is discovered. The return must show evidence of the manner in which worthlessness was discovered. Statement should be made that the debtor has been discharged in bankruptcy, or has disappeared leaving no property, or that the ordinary methods of collection have been exhausted. As stated by Income-Tax regulations, "Where all the surrounding circumstances indicate that a debt is worthless and uncollectible, and that legal action to enforce payment would in all probability not result in the satisfaction of execution on a judgment, a showing of these facts will be sufficient evidence of the worthlessness of the debt for the purposes of deduction."

Payment of an ordinary debt not charged off as worthless is not income to the creditor, since it is mere change in form of capital. Whenever, however, a debt deducted as worthless in some previous year is in a later year recovered or partially recovered, the amount received is taxable income to the creditor for the year in which received.

Loans to Relatives.
A frequent claim for deduction is made for loans to relatives and friends.

Before a debt can be deducted its character as a true debt must be proved. Questions such as this reach collectors: "If I advanced a sum to assist a needy friend or relative, having at the time little or no reason to expect that it would be returned, may I claim a deduction to cover such advance?" The answer is "No." Such an advance is regarded as a gift, and is not held to be a bonafide debt.

A valid debt which is proved to be worthless is not always a proper deduction. Treasury regulations provide that worthless debts arising from unpaid wages, salaries, rentals and similar items of income will not be allowed as a deduction unless the income such items represent has been included in the creditor's return for the year in which the deduction is sought, or in a previous year.

When Debt Is Worthless
Where the creditor continues to extend credit to the debtor, a debt may not be claimed as worthless. A debt may not be charged off and deducted in part, but must be wholly and entirely worthless before any part may be deducted, though it may be clearly worth less than the face amount. If a debt is forgiven it can not be claimed as a deduction, because it is then regarded as a gift, which is not an allowable deduction.

HOW OFFICERS FRUSTRATED THE REDS IN KANSAS

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—How authorities frustrated an alleged plan of the I. W. W. to institute a "reign of terror" in the Kansas wheat fields last summer, was told here today in an address by L. T. Hussey, state fire marshal of Kansas, before the convention of the National Fire Underwriters' association.

Evidence gathered by the authorities indicated that between 400 and 500 I. W. W. organizers were on duty in Kansas, said Mr. Hussey. Seventy trained men, each commissioned a deputy state fire marshal, were placed in the field to upset their plans. The first move, the speaker said, was to intercept a letter from the secretary of the association to an organizer at Great Bend, Kansas.

"This letter gave the names of organizers and the locations to which literature could be sent for them," explained Mr. Hussey. "This enabled us to intercept the literature and to catch the organizer when he called for his package. The literature proved, as we had suspected, that a reign of terror had been planned for the Kansas wheat fields."

Indications that the I. W. W. plan was being interrupted was found in a letter to an organizer, intercepted by a deputy. Mr. Hussey quotes from the letter as follows: "They now have a large number of our fellows in jail and the bounds of the state fire marshal's office are grabbing our men on the least pretense and getting our literature. Our work so far in Kansas has been a failure because we have been unable to get our literature distributed."

Mr. Hussey brought to New York with him many samples of "sabot" incendiary weapons. He said the aggregate losses in Kansas last summer from hay and grain fires resulting from the use of these "chemical firebrands" was $254,000.

SHE WANTED A LOCK OF WILLIAM FARNUM'S HAIR

"I've had requests for all sorts of souvenirs, but this one beats the Dutch!" said William Farnum out in Hollywood, in the Fix studios, during the filming of "Wolves of the Night." He had glanced casually at the beginning of a letter handed to him by his secretary, and remarked with that winning Farnum smile:

"She wants a lock of my 'pretty curly hair,' as she calls it. Can you beat that?" Then he read the rest of the letter, and grew most serious, and handed the missive back to his secretary with a few whispered words, as if they were too sacred for the general ear.

The letter had said: "Your lovely locks are just like my father's hair that I used to love to comb and curl while seated on Daddy's lap when I was a little girl, my father's pet. Daddy died in Africa, far away from me, and always my heart yearns for just one lock of the loveliest hair I ever saw. I see all your pictures, and each time I long for a curl of the only hair I have seen that is like Daddy's. Please, Mr. Farnum, for memory's sake do me this little favor." William Farnum appears at the American Theatre in "Wolves of the Night," a photoplay that is said to show this great star at his best, with many charms beside his hair.

WAR TIME WAGES

HOLD TILL SEPT.

SUCH IS THE PROVISION OF THE

RAILROAD REORGANIZATION

BILL NOW BEING CON-

SIDERED

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Wage establishments by the railroad administration during the war would continue in effect until Sept. 1, under the railroad reorganization bill, the conference reports on which was made public today just before it was presented in the House and Senate.

The bill as reported today also seeks to mobilize the rate for the same period of time, providing that expires Sept. 1. No rates may be reduced unless the approval of the interstate commerce commission is obtained.

The restriction on wage increases was looked on with especial interest by members, conference officials and union leaders in view of the recent demand of more than 2,000,000 railroad workers for an advance in pay.

In the belief that a wage commission would be empowered to act on their demands the heads of the 14 railroad unions here called a conference to be held beginning Monday to discuss the policy to be adopted in dealing with such a commission.

Sherman Esch of the House announced today that the conference report would be taken up in the House Saturday and Chairman Cummings of the Senate managers expects to call it up in the senate at a later date.

Legion Post To Give Certificates Sunday Morning

Memorial services in honor of Pontotoc County's soldier dead will be held at the First Baptist Church in Ada next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. At this service a Memorial Certificate given by the French Government to every American soldier who died during the war will be given to the dead soldier's nearest relative. The services will be under the direction of Norman Howard Post of the American Legion.

The adjutant of the local post states that he has received twenty nine certificates for delivery and has written to the next of kin of each soldier to be present at next Sunday's service to receive the certificate. It is known, however, that some of these relatives have changed their address during the past year and for that reason may not receive the letter from the Adjutant. It is hoped that these people may receive information concerning the memorial service and be present next Sunday morning. An interesting program is being prepared.

HONEST GIRL RETURNS LOST MONEY TO OWNER

Miss Margaret Le Sener, a former student of Stauffer's business college but who accepted a position only yesterday, was returning from her first day's work when, upon passing the Kandy Kitchen, near the Katy depot picked up a roll of bills containing $70.00.

She then went to the home of Mrs. R. J. Kennon, where she is boarding, and immediately notified Mrs. Kennon and asked her advice. They waited until the Evening News was delivered and in it was a "lost ad" for $70.00. The owner was notified and recovered the money. The owner happened to live across the street from Mrs. Kennon, so the recovery of her money was not long delayed. The young lady was tendered a reward for her honesty but declined to accept it until the owner of the money insisted.

The Sale of War

Stores Would Kill

Off Profiteer Says

By the Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 17.—If the government places on the market at cost the clothing, food, vehicles, automobiles, trucks, barbed wire and other commodities it stored for war, it would knock the profiteer out, according to I. C. Cross, director of army goods sales in Louisville and city buyer.

He suggested that municipalities and communities purchase part of the supplies and in turn sell them to citizens at a slight profit. "This would go far toward relieving present cost of living conditions," he said.

REBELS AT "LOCKING" WITH HICKORY STICK

The most unusual court trial in the history of the world is shown in "Heart of the Hills," adapted from the story of John Fox, Jr., Mary Pickford's third First National release from her own studios and which will be seen at the Liberty Theatre commencing Thursday.

This production shows Mary as she has never been seen before. A mountain girl afflicted with a harsh mother, she determines to issue an ultimatum proclaiming that in all future hickory stick lickings shall be abandoned, that she will "get" the man who murdered her father, and that no lowland aristocrats shall encroach upon the ancestral Hawk holdings.

Aside from her serious work in life, Mary has a sweetheart who baits her hook, escorts her to the "shindigs," and makes love to her in spare hours. The picture is crammed full of Pickfordisms and just the sort of story the thousands of Pickford fans like to see Mary in.

COUGHED UNTIL HE WAS WEAK AND THIN

Has now gained 44 pounds, and says he's absolutely well.

"A year ago I was down with pneumonia, which left me with a deep-seated cough. My doctor said he couldn't do me any good, and I would have to go to Colorado. I went but I didn't improve, and at the time I left the hospital, I was a mere skeleton. "I met a person who had used Milks Emulsion and he asked me to try it. I have now taken 21 bottles and have gained 44 pounds in weight and I am today in as good, sound health as I ever was in my life." J. H. Johnson, 516 No. 32d St., Mattoon, Ill. To give your body strength to resist disease, try building it up with Milks Emulsion. A trial costs nothing. Milks-Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold everywhere.

CONGRESS FOOLS THE EX-SOLDIER

PLAYING HORSE WITH THEM IN COMPENSATION MATTER REGARDLESS OF FORMER PROMISES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—It begins to look as though the five million men who served with the colors during the war and the republican leaders in congress were drawing off for a finish fight on the bonus or compensation question. The majority leaders have declared their stand of no compensation for this congress and nothing but a party caucus can overturn them before they come to the mat with the soldiers. Indications that the former service men over the country have put the present congress down as faithless and inefficient and that they intend going after the "scalps" of those responsible for the party policy are coming in from various sections of the country.

The complaint of the former service men is that after a year of waiting and trusting in the pledges of the present congress they now understand that the present body of law makers are unwilling to make a compensation adjustment at this time. At a special conference of the republican leaders held within the last few days it was decided that the men would be told that they must wait before relief or adjustment will be given them.

In the meantime, the American Legion, representing some million and a half organized former service men, through its executive committee, has called on congress to keep the faith it pledged the men during last summer and fall and has stated its belief that a fifty dollar bond should be given every man who served honorably during the war for every month of service as a compensation to meet the extreme living cost created largely by the unusually high compensations paid civilians during the war. In its resolution the executive committee called especial attention to the fact that the American Legion in its November convention in Minneapolis "left with confidence the discharge of this obligation to congress," and in its next article declared that "no definite action looking to such compensation has yet been taken by congress."

Legion officers in respect to their resolution, point to the fact that the congressional leaders gave them to understand last summer that there would be no soldier compensation legislation until after the American Legion convention, so that congress might have the advantage of knowing what the majority of the organized service men wanted. They further allude to the assurances given them by certain republican leaders at the time of the convention that they could with assurance leave such a matter to congress without specifying any fixed adjustment. Now, apparently, they are convinced that congress has broken faith with them and some of the men are convinced that certain wily members of congress have purposely schemed to get them into a corner where they can afford to neglect them. The demand among the yet unorganized men who served in the ranks is said to be even more insistent than that of the members of the several soldier organizations. Proof of the pressure behind such legislation is seen in the fact that about 80 bills have been introduced in the House looking toward compensation in some form. It is evident that the republican leaders will have a fight on their hands even among the leaders of their own party who have introduced some of these bills in response to the influence of home sentiment.

The Canny Scot. London Tit-bits: A man from the North of Scotland was on holiday in Glasgow. On Sunday evening he was walking along Argyl street when he came upon a contingent of the Salvation Army, and a collection bag was thrust under his nose. He dropped a penny into it. Turning up Queen street, he encountered another contingent of the Salvation Army, and again a smiling "lass" held a collection bag in front of him. "Na, na," he said. "I gied a penny tae a squad of your folk roon' the corner jist the noo." "Really?" said the lass. "That was very good of you. But, then, you can't do a good thing too often. And, besides, you know the Lord will repay you a hundredfold." "Aweel," said the cautious Scot, "we'll jist wait till the first transaction's feenished before we start the second."

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture Relieved by Black-Draught.

Roseville, Ca.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

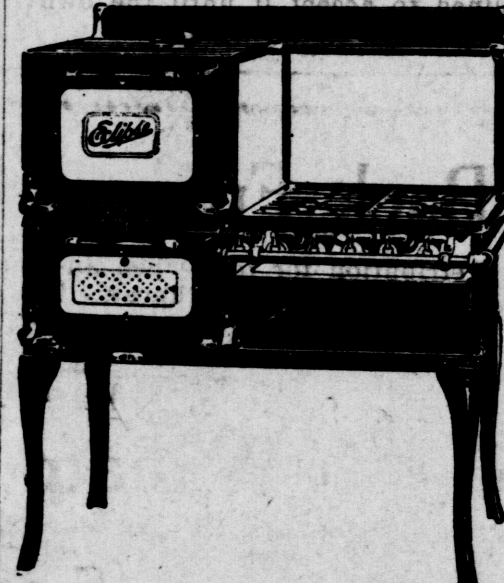

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

Dressing the School Girl

IT IS a lucky thing for the American public that the women whose intelligence raises them to the responsibility of buying for the great department stores and mail order houses are gifted in several directions. Intelligence in the selection of good styles is a necessary part of their equipment. They cultivate a "sense of clothes" which is another way of describing the art of dressing correctly. It is true that they must consider in their purchasing a following that will not buy their most tasteful merchandise. But when they make their display and match up their choice of clothes with that of other buyers, we may be fairly sure of seeing the best things that money will buy.

The arbiters of fashion insist that the schoolgirl should be dressed as a schoolgirl. That dress should occupy a very small part of her time and attention while she is in school. That her clothes should be simple and inconspicuous, and that utility and neatness are their important requisites. It goes without saying that they are attractive, for there is a charm about the simple, schoolgirl clothes that belongs to them alone.

A fine example of schoolgirl styles for the coming spring is shown in the picture given here. In which a cotton voile with colored satin stripe makes a delightful dress for a junior miss. It has a pretty bodice with a shawl collar edged with narrow lace, a vestee of the voile, three-quarters length sleeves with turned back cuffs. The plain skirt is gathered into the bodice and a short tunic is suggested in it by the simple means of a wide tuck set in on a slope. A wide sash of the voile with bow and ends at the back finish up a dress in which the young girl will look sweet when summer comes. These pretty cottons, simply made, have a freshness and youthfulness that belongs to nothing else. It is best to copy such dresses just as they are, for the things that make them so pleasing to women of the finest taste are subtle things. Accept them, and do not presume to change them.

ENGLISH PEOPLE RESENT AMERICAN PHOHI MEDDLING

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Some British newspapers have been stirred to indignation by receipt from the United States of a report that prohibition propaganda throughout the world, but chiefly in Great Britain. A few have expressed resentment at what they characterize as outside interference with "the right of the Englishman to drink what he likes."

"A subscription to dry up the Atlantic would have as much chance of success," says the Saturday Review. "But there arises the question why, when everybody is harassed with post-war problems, we should allow our peace to be disturbed by a band of Yankee fanatics with never so many millions to scatter. It is a most unwarrantable intrusion on our domestic life at a time when we are in no mood to be trifled with."

Referring to disorders that recently attended a prohibition campaign conducted in Wales by an American paper adds: "We really think the government might ask the permission of the Washington cabinet to repatriate these meddling maniacs, and to forbid at all events for the next year or two, their landing on these shores."

The Liverpool Post, commenting on the proposed fund says: "It argues a poor appreciation of the character of the British people and of the conditions in this country that such a madcap scheme should have been evolved. Such 'Pussy-foot' tactics on the scale now threatened open the door to international ill-feeling that might prove very mischievous in the present state of the world."

"America has chosen prohibition for itself. It is not absolutely inconceivable that Great Britain may some day follow the example. But it will not be as a result of American methods, the more likely effect of which might be to discredit the prohibition idea, and even to retard temperance progress on lines that are likely to appeal to the British temperament."

"We should be so much obliged if our good, kind friends in America would refrain from doing us good," says The Globe in an editorial. "Unregenerate creatures that we are, we do not like it, and we have a sort of idea that they might find enough to occupy them at home. The fox which has lost his tail is generally quite willing to assist in the decaudation of the rest. All the same we do not think the plan will be successful."

Pershing Now Compared With Old Honest Abe

Magazines and newspapers have, since the announcement of the President, likened Pershing to Washington and Grant because of the fact that the popular demand that he become President has developed out of the ability he displayed as America's greatest general of the present day.

Now an enterprising correspondent, delving into Pershing's early life, has brought to light a striking similarity in early training between the commander of the A. E. F. and Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"In the comparison of present day candidates for the Presidency with America's presidents of the past, it is interesting to note the marked similarity existing between the boyhood life and early training of Lincoln and Pershing. 'Jack' Pershing, as Lincoln, was not 'born with a gold spoon in his mouth,' nor was he handed out the good things of life on a silver platter. Just as the 'rail splitter' of Illinois cut fence rails and took other odd jobs to gain sufficient funds to give him a livelihood and to enable him to pursue his studies, so Pershing fought his early battles in preparation for the great work ahead of him."

"At the age of fourteen young Jack Pershing with an inborn desire to study and gain knowledge sought, as a means to that end, the same vocation in which the immortal Lincoln got his start. He took a contract for making fence rails, chopped down the trees, trimmed the branches and split fifty rails a day. During the period when this work was scarce he hired out as a section hand on the railroad at $1.05 per day, boarding himself. In this manner he made enough money to put him through the Normal School."

"When he was fifteen years of age he and his brother James Pershing, now in Chicago, raised ninety acres of corn, husked, harvested and sold it. With his income from this and his other 'odd jobs' he made his way thru school. For the two years following he taught school in order that he might have enough money to continue his education. Through it all he had his goal to strive for and no task was too menial, providing it assisted him in his ambition."

"Just as Lincoln, and for that matter, most of our great men, Pershing came from humble parents and was developed amid humble surroundings. The progress he made he had to fight for. The ends he achieved, he merited thru hard work and grinding experiences. Perhaps that humble origin and the necessity of fighting for every advancement he gained accounts more than anything else for the splendid success he has attained."

COMMISSIONERS GET IMPROVEMENT BIDS

The city of Ada seems to have saved approximately $10,000 on the contracts let yesterday for the improvements in the city water and sewerage systems. The total bids on the several proposed projects are about $10,000 less than the estimates called for. Bidding was rather spirited. The following are the names of the companies bidding and the amounts of the bids:

Burglars Were Arrested With Stolen Goods

The burglars who robbed the show window of the Moser Department Store last Sunday night were arrested in Darktown yesterday afternoon by Deputy Chandler and Constable Goynes. The officers had picked up some kind of a clue as to the identity of the burglars and going to Darktown arrested Zeke Scott and Tom Morris both of whom are negroes. A search of the house where the negroes were arrested resulted in the discovery of most of the goods stolen Sunday night and the negroes were lodged in the county jail. It is said by local officers that Scott and Morris are wanted in Muskogee County on a highway robbery charge.

None of the articles stolen from the Lowery Barber Shop Sunday night were found in the possession of the negroes arrested yesterday and the officers believe that it was another gang that robbed the barbershop.

LILLY MAY REED GETS MARRIED IN VIRGINIA

Mrs. George Harrison of this city is just in receipt of an announcement of the marriage of Miss Lilly May Reed to Rev. Laurence A. Smith at Norfolk, Va., on the 7th of this month.

Miss Reed was one of the early day residents of Ada, a school and girlhood chum of Mrs. Harrison and will be remembered by many of the first residents of the city. She was a young lady of many estimable traits and her old friends here will be pleased to hear of her marriage to this excellent gentleman.

Let a Want Ad get it for you.

Nurses Are Not Available Red Cross Reports

That it is impossible to secure a sufficient number to fill the local demand in the present emergency is the report of the Red Cross headquarters in Ada. Repeated efforts in various sections of the state have brought nothing but the information that additional nurses are not available. The prevalence of influenza has created a demand for nurses that far exceeds the supply.

Many women of Ada and vicinity have offered their services to the local Red Cross to help out in the present emergency, but some of them, the totally lacking in any training for nursing, refuse to work for less than $5.00 to $7.00 a day. None of these have been employed.

The workers of the Red Cross have prepared a lot of influenza masks which they are ready to give to anyone desiring them. They are made to protect those who have to be in the room with patients suffering with influenza. Anyone who has to be exposed and desires these masks may obtain a supply by calling at Red Cross headquarters over the Guaranty State Bank.

Kendall Quintet is Here for Two Game Series With Normal

The Kendall College basketball team came in this morning from Shawnee where it took a couple of games from the Baptist University by good scores. The Tulsans will play at the Normal Gym tonight and tomorrow night.

The team is in charge of Coach F. A. Schmidt and Captain Ivan Grove. Both are unusually well known throughout Oklahoma as the leaders in College Athletics. Schmidt has put out two championship football teams and Grove is playing his fourth year with Kendall. He has frequently been placed on the all-state football and basketball teams. Other members of the aggregation were also members of last fall's all-star football team.

The local basketballers are closing the most difficult schedule they ever undertook. The Normal lads have made good showings in all of the games, in spite of the fact that the best teams in the Southwest have been met. Kendall has not lost a college game in the state thus far this season. The line-up for this evening will be:

KENDALL	EAST CENTRAL
Keck	Forward
Lamb	Forward
Pischney	Center
Balcent	Guard
Grove	Guard
Williams	Substitute
Dunham	Substitute

The true worth of a man or woman is the measure of his or her character.

Did it ever occur to you that precisely the same is true of a banking institution?

If this bank enjoys success and a high reputation; if it is a truly up-building force in the community; if it is fulfilling its highest mission as a bank, it is all due to the character that makes the First National the institution it is.
